

/en·gen·der/

To spark, incite, instigate, inspire, provoke, create,
or generate

EngenderHealth
for a better life

MESSAGE FROM

Ulla E. Müller, President & CEO

When I was growing up in Denmark, my mother, a nurse and single parent, instilled in me the importance of serving our community to make things better for the next generation. It is a simple yet profound value that has guided me throughout my life: to spark positive change in the world.

I believe that sexual and reproductive health and rights are fundamental to unlocking opportunities for women and girls. It is crucial to alleviate poverty, and to achieve sustainable development for all. That is why I am very proud to take the helm at EngenderHealth—a bold, brave organization that makes it possible for women and girls to decide if, whether, and when to have children, and to do so with access to high-quality sexual and reproductive health services, to reach their potential. Thank you for standing with EngenderHealth.

Ulla E. Müller
President & CEO
EngenderHealth

Our Global Impact

With your invaluable partnership and support, EngenderHealth reached:*

7.3 million people

with health messages

31,000 people

with training in family planning and reproductive health information and services

7,600 hospitals and health centers

to deliver better care

5.2 million women and men

with family planning, maternal health, and HIV services

8,300 health care providers

trained in family planning and reproductive health

These activities will prevent an estimated:

4.1 million

unintended pregnancies

1.2 million

unsafe abortions

8,300

maternal deaths

58,300

child deaths

Moreover, $260 million will be saved in direct health costs (by avoiding adverse events related to pregnancy, death, and disability).

* EngenderHealth trains health care providers and supports hospitals and clinics in partnership with governments and local organizations to offer high-quality reproductive health services. The EngenderHealth-supported sites provided health care services that will reduce preventable deaths and disability and will result in cost savings. The data cover FY2014–2015.

 Estimated using Marie Stopes International's Impact 2 Model.

For a copy of the FY2015 financials, please visit: www.engenderhealth.org/ar.

© 2016 EngenderHealth. Photo credits: S. Lewis/EngenderHealth; R. Islam/EngenderHealth; J. Zuckerman/EngenderHealth; Zeleman Production/EngenderHealth (CM0134)

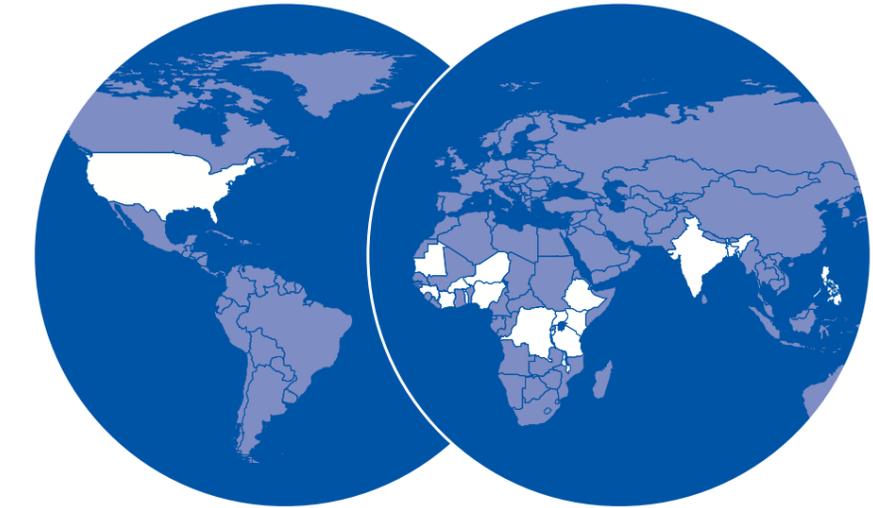

"Every woman has a different story, yet it is also all the same story. Economically, the family is poor, with six or more children, and they cannot care well for the children they have. When you serve this woman, you are saving her life and making both her life and the life of her children better."

—Tigist, Ethiopia

Around the Globe

Today, EngenderHealth is working in nearly 20 countries to deliver lasting solutions that enable women and girls to realize their right to sexual and reproductive health.

- | | | |
|----------------------------------|------------|-----------------|
| Bangladesh | Guinea | The Philippines |
| Burkina Faso | India | Tanzania |
| Burundi | Kenya | Togo |
| Côte d'Ivoire | Malawi | Uganda |
| Democratic Republic of the Congo | Mauritania | United States |
| Ethiopia | Niger | |
| | Nigeria | |

EngenderHealth is a leading global women's health organization committed to the belief that sexual and reproductive health is a human right and that access to quality health services is vital for women and girls to reach their full potential. We create lasting change by training health care professionals and partnering with governments and communities to make high-quality family planning and sexual and reproductive health services available today and for generations to come.

Visit www.engenderhealth.org for more information.

EngenderHealth

for a better life

440 Ninth Avenue, New York, NY 10001