EngenderHealth
for a better life

70
YEARS

The EngenderHealth story is all about passion.

As champions for women’s rights and contraceptive choice, we have channeled our fierce determination to put the power of family planning into the hands of millions of women and men across 110 countries.

It is our unwavering belief that when a woman can choose the number of children she wants, not what her circumstances dictate, the possibilities for her future are infinite.

We have transformed our passion into action—every day for 70 years.
